A Personal Note from Elizabeth:

There is an epidemic among the women in our nation – and it's a feeling of low self worth. I have made it my mission to change this! God did not design us to feel bad but to be confident and walk through our fears with Him at our side.

I would love to share with the women in your community my journey of how God took me from a woman of shame to a woman of confidence and grace. And, at the same time, share powerful systems to help them reclaim control of their life with confidence!

What are YOU Waiting For?

Meet Elizabeth Hagen

Author, speaker, business coach, mother and wife. All these titles could easily be applied to motivational speaker Elizabeth Hagen, but there is much more.

It was in 1985 that Elizabeth realized that she and her husband Bruce were raising 4 children all under 5 years old. Talk about a wake-up call. Being organized wasn't simply a choice, it was necessary for survival. So by 1992 when the 5th and final child arrived at the Hagen household, Elizabeth had developed a new way of living for her and her family.

Taking the same motivation she had for her own family to succeed, she has created proven ways for her audiences to have more focus, more control, more momentum, and more success.
